A dynamic accounting department, a world-class undergraduate accounting program, a successful M.S. in Accounting and Information Analysis program (MSAIA), and the 31st best undergraduate business school according to Bloomberg Businessweek’s annual ranking of 132 schools, nation’s 12th strongest part-time MBA program, are reasons to respond to this invitation. We seek two well-trained research scholars/teachers with strong research skills to join Lehigh University’s Accounting faculty in Fall 2016.

Our priority is to attract strong researchers, interested in joint research with other faculty, and experienced in working with a variety of research methodologies and topics. All areas except federal taxation and accounting information systems will be considered. We are looking for either a new Ph.D. or an experienced Assistant Professor. Candidates with proven record may be considered for the rank of Associate Professor with or without tenure. Candidate should also possess strong communication and interpersonal skills, and be able to work in a team environment with a collegial attitude. Candidates’ strengths and professional portfolio must complement current accounting faculty’s teaching and research make-up of the accounting department and support the mission of the department, the CBE, and the University.

Candidates with Ph.D. in accounting will be considered for a nine-month, full-time tenure-track appointment. Candidates near completion or ABD at the time of starting at Lehigh will be considered for an Instructor or a visiting appointment in a one-year, non-tenure track position with their position converting to tenure-track per University rules upon receipt of Ph.D. degree. Salary and benefits are competitive. The College of Business and Economics at Lehigh University is committed to increasing the diversity and inclusion of the college community and curriculum.

For more than 140 years, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. The institution is among the nation's most selective, highly ranked private research universities. Lehigh’s four colleges provide graduate and undergraduate education to approximately 7,000 students. The College of Business and Economics is home to approximately 1,270 undergraduates, 410 graduate students, and 80 full-time faculty members. Located in eastern Pennsylvania, the campus is situated on about 2,350 acres in close proximity to both New York City and Philadelphia. The Lehigh Valley International Airport is 15 minutes from campus.

We believe a supportive research environment, well-published colleagues, excellent students, solid relations with public accounting/investment banking firms, and committed alumni make Lehigh’s Accounting Department attractive to those focused on research, teaching and service. Qualified women and minority candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

If interested, please send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, letters of reference, and dissertation proposal or other scholarly work electronically to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/5602 in care of Professor Parveen P. Gupta, William L. Clayton Distinguished Professor of Accounting and Chairman, Department of Accounting, Lehigh University. Email: ppg0@lehigh.edu; Phone: (610) 758-3443. Informational URL: http://cbe.lehigh.edu/faculty-research/faculty-recruitment

Lehigh University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer. Qualified women and minority candidates are especially encouraged to apply. Lehigh University provides comprehensive benefits including partner benefits.

http://www.lehigh.edu/~inprv/faculty/worklifebalance.html