Richard P. Van Benschoten, CFP
Managing Partner,
Lenox Advisors

Rick Van Benschoten is a founding and Managing Partner of Lenox Advisors, a national Wealth Management firm with offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Stamford, Conn. and an NFP firm. Rick has more than 30 years of insurance, investment, and wealth management experience. Today, he advises many of the firm’s ultra-high-net-worth individuals, families, and institutions. Rick is responsible for the development of the Lenox Personal CFO Program and advises the firm’s Senior Relationship Managers on all planning and insurance issues. Rick is also a Registered NFLPA Player Financial Advisor and a Mass Mutual career agent. As a member of the International Association for Financial Planning (IAFP), he served on its board from 1998 to 2000. Rick has been quoted in many financial publications, including Money Magazine, Worth and Forbes and has made numerous appearances on CNN, CNBC, and Bloomberg Television. He is also on the board of the Covenant House N.Y., a homeless youth shelter and rehabilitation facility.

EDUCATION:
Certified Financial Planner, 1994

New York University
Master’s Degree in Real Estate Development, 1992

Lehigh University
B.S. Finance, 1987

WORK HISTORY:
Lenox Advisors 1992 - Present