

-The Impact Symposium-

PRIVACY & SECURITY IN THE ERA OF BIG DATA

TING WANG

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, COMPUTER SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING
LEHIGH UNIVERSITY P.C. ROSSIN COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND APPLIED SCIENCE

Ting Wang is an assistant professor in the computer science and engineering department at Lehigh. He is broadly interested in data science, computational privacy, and cyber-security. His current research focuses on understanding and mitigating privacy vulnerabilities of machine learning-powered systems. Before joining Lehigh, he was a research staff member at IBM Thomas J. Watson research center. He obtained his PhD degree from Georgia Tech.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF
BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS